Създана была первая азбука, названная азбукой Кирилла и Мефодия. В ней было 32 буквы, по числу славянских букв. Каждая буква имела свое название, которое начиналось с той же буквы. Например, буква «а» называлась «аз», «б» — «буки», «в» — «въдѣ», «г» — «глаголь» и т.д. Такая азбука была использована в течение нескольких столетий.

The first thing that strikes the eye is the vastness of the country and the beauty of the scenery.
 The mountains are high and rugged and the valleys are fertile and green.
 The rivers are numerous and the navigation is easy. The climate is temperate and the soil is rich.
 The people are industrious and the trade is increasing every day.
 The government is wise and the laws are just. The king is beloved and the queen is respected. The people are happy and the country is flourishing.

The second thing that strikes the eye is the beauty of the architecture.
 The buildings are grand and the streets are wide and clean.
 The houses are large and the furniture is elegant. The gardens are beautiful and the parks are extensive. The churches are ancient and the cathedrals are magnificent.
 The people are well-dressed and the manners are polite. The education is good and the sciences are advanced. The arts are flourished and the literature is excellent. The country is a paradise on earth.
 The people are proud of their country and they love it dearly.
 The king and queen are the pillars of the state. The nobles are loyal and the commons are obedient. The people are united and the country is strong.

The first part of the book is devoted to a general survey of the history of the English language, from its origin in the North Sea to its present state. The author discusses the influence of various dialects, the borrowing of words from other languages, and the changes in pronunciation and grammar over time. He also touches upon the literary and scientific uses of the language.

The second part of the book is a detailed grammar of the English language, covering the various parts of speech and their uses. It includes a thorough treatment of syntax and morphology, with numerous examples and exercises to illustrate the rules. The author's approach is clear and systematic, making it a valuable resource for students and scholars alike.

The book is written in a clear and concise style, and is well-organized and easy to read. It is a classic work that has stood the test of time, and is still widely used and respected today.

FIRST OF JUNE---PANORAMA.
LEICESTER-SQUARE.

THE Public are respectfully informed, that the PANORAMA opens every day at Ten o'clock, with a Representation of every Ship in the British and French Fleets, as they appeared at One P. M. on that day. Captain Barlow, of the Pegasus, Lord Howe's repeating Frigate, and Captain Seymour, who was Signal Officer with Captain Barlow at that time, having obligingly furnished Mr. Barker with a correct Plan of the situation of every ship, taken the first moment that they could be discovered from smoke, when the French Fleet had fled from the English, and forming on the starboard tack, had commenced, as they passed, a heavy fire on the Queen, from nine sail of their line.

Observers may suppose themselves on the open sea, in the centre of both fleets, and so near the Queen Charlotte, as to afford an advantageous View of one of the finest Ships in the Navy.

This Scene will continue open, as usual, in the Panorama. Likewise the New View of London, highly finished in Oil Colours.

Admittance One Shilling.

Sir,

Having completed my New Specimen, I take this Opportunity of sending you a Copy, and flatter myself it will meet with your Approbation.

I shall be happy to receive your future Orders, and you may be assured of every possible Attention being paid to the Execution of those you may favour me with.

I remain,

Sir,

Your obedient humble Servant,

Wm. Caston.
