SPECIFICATION forming part of Design No. 17,910, dated November 29, 1887.

Application filed October 19, 1887. Serial No. 252,858. Term of patent 7 years.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, GEORGE F. GIESECKE, of Leipsic, in the Kingdom of Saxony, Empire of United Germany, have invented a Design
5 for a Font of Combination Type Ornaments for the Formation of Borders, of which the following is a specification.

The nature of my design is clearly shown in the accompanying typographic impression, to 10 which reference is made; and it consists of a series of types numbered from 1 to 14, inclusive, representing light scroll-like figures combined with a series of tendrils, floral, and fruit
15 like ornaments upon a heavy groundwork, as shown. In No. 13 is also shown a winged cupid, and in No. 12 the head of a cupid.

One of the typographic impressions shows the various members of the font. The other shows an entirety formed by combining them.

Having now described my invention, I claim 20
as new—

The design for a font of type ornaments, as herein shown, the same consisting of a series of light scroll-like figures upon a heavy groundwork, combined with a series of tendrils, floral, 25 and fruit like ornaments, and numbered from 1 to 14, inclusive, while in No. 13 a winged cupid is also shown, and in No. 12 a cupid.

In testimony whereof I have signed my name to this specification in the presence of two sub- 30 scribing witnesses.

GEORGE F. GIESECKE.
