UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

CHARLES E. HEYER, OF CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, ASSIGNOR TO ARTHUR M. BARNHART, ALSON E. BARNHART, AND CHARLES E. SPINDLER, OF SAME PLACE.

DESIGN FOR A FONT OF PRINTING-TYPE.

SPECIFICATION forming part of Design No. 13,290, dated September 12, 1882.

Application filed July 24, 1882. Term of patent 14 years.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, CHARLES E. HEYER, a citizen of the United States, residing in the city of Chicago, county of Cook, and State of Illinois, have invented and produced a new and original Design for a Font of Printing-Types, of which the following is a specification, reference being had to the accompanying typographical illustration, forming a part hereof.

10 First. A set of ornamental printing-types, consisting of capitals, lower-case, figures, and points.

15 Second. The design is of an extended medium-weight letter, with horizontal and long curves, as a general character.

20 Third. A swelling or pointing-out at the centers of the curves in the capital letters B C D G J O P Q R S U & $, and in lower-case letters a b c d e g o p q s, and in figures 2 3 5 6 8 9 0.

Fourth. The horizontal line of capital letters A E F H runs through the left stroke of the letters and terminates with a concave equilateral. The horizontal center lines of capital letters B P R and the diagonal lines of capital letters C G S terminate in a scroll with a disk or ball.

Fifth. The flags of capital letters C E F G L S T Z and figures 2 3 5 6 7 9 point out beyond the lines of the letters. The lower-case letters a c f g j r y have, as a flag, an open loop swelled in the center.

Sixth. The marking strokes of the lower-case letters h m n u are formed by a double curve, which ends in an opened loop swelled in the center.

I claim—

The design for a font of printing-types, as herewith described and illustrated.

CHARLES E. HEYER.
